

Register now for coastal management training courses to be held at the South Slough National Estuarine Research Reserve.

Negotiating skills and strategies to make you a more effective natural resources manager

Negotiating for Coastal Resources

September 8, 2010

How can I build collaborative relationships based on trust?

How can I overcome barriers to negotiating?

How do I assess others' personal negotiation styles?

How should I plan and prepare for negotiating?

This one-day interactive course provides participants with practical skills and information on all facets of negotiation.

Knowledge, skills, and tools to help you design projects and understand their impacts on your audience

Project Design & Evaluation

September 9-10, 2010

How can I be sure my project will have the right impact?

How do I measure the performance of my projects?

Do I understand the needs of my audience?

Am I reaching the right audience?

This two-day course provides the knowledge, skills, and tools to design and implement projects that have measurable impacts on a targeted audience.

Training is FREE to members of ...

- Watershed councils and associations
- Oregon tribal nations
- Federal, state and local agencies
- Port staff and commissions
- Non-profit organizations
- Seafood commodity commissions
- Marine organizations and marine businesses

To register for either of these courses call

South Slough National
Estuarine Research Reserve

541-888-5558 ext. 29

61907 Seven Devils Road (four miles south of Charleston)

Presented by Oregon International Port of Coos Bay, OSU Extension / Oregon Sea Grant, the NOAA Coastal Services Center and the South Slough National Estuarine Research Reserve.